

CONFEDERATE MILITARY UNITS

FROM

CHEROKEE COUNTY, ALABAMA

Twenty-six volunteer companies organized at least partially within this county for Confederate service, the "Cherokee Grays" becoming the first on March 25, 1861. This number does not include militia, home guards, and other units raised under state or local authority. Recognizing transfers, re-enlistments, (which accounts for most members of the "Cherokee Grays") and men residing elsewhere who served in these companies, we estimate that 2,040 men from Cherokee County enrolled in Confederate military units. After the war a substantial portion of this county was partitioned by the state legislature to become Etowah County.
